

Elevate: Jamf for Small Businesses

You have big plans for your small business.

Apple device management and security that prepares organizations for greatness.

You deserve powerful tools to manage, protect and equip Apple devices.

However, enterprise-grade device management and security solutions often require a full-time dedicated IT team to implement, monitor and update those solutions.

Without the right tools, small businesses can experience a lot of frustration.

Configuration chaos:

Devices with outdated, unpatched software and incorrect settings create vulnerabilities and harm productivity.

Security worries:

Managers lose sleep knowing that one compromised device could expose their entire organization.

Time wasted:

Many spend hours of training, configuration and troubleshooting only to discover the solution is too complex and takes away from running the business.

Elevate: a simple interface for management and security

A simple way to access powerful control and protection for the Apple devices you and your employees depend on.

Unified device management and security, set up in 60 minutes

First, choose your level of security and tell Elevate what apps you'll need. From there, guided workflows walk you through video tutorials and smart recommendations in clear, simple language to offer help exactly when you need it.

What can you do with Elevate?

Deploy with confidence

Zero-touch deployment means that new Apple devices arrive from the distributor preconfigured. When employees first power on, their pre-set apps, security policies and settings allow them to get right to work.

Keep devices safe

Choose your security level and Elevate handles the rest with real-time threat detection, automated remediation and continuous monitoring.

Grow quickly

The Elevate interface won't hold you back. Sure, you're starting small. Later, access enterprise workflows and integrations as your business expands — with no migration or add-ons required.

Save time

Apply security policies, apps and settings to user groups using blueprints that turn complex device configurations into simple, reusable templates.

Remain compliant

Jamf's security is automatically best practice, which helps you to meet customer and insurance requirements.

Reach a human

While AI Assistant provides fast, relevant answers; Jamf offers person-powered individual support through phone or chat worldwide.

Dig deeper

Jamf's AI Assistant offers plain-language guidance on devices, users and settings. Stuck, or want to take Apple management a step further? Just ask.

